STATE COURT BACKS SHEELY ON DECISION

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court Friday upheld a decision previously handed down by Adams County Judge W. C. Sheely in an action brought by Eva M. Pape, Gettysburg, against the Gargol Exploration Co. to terminate a lease on land in Adams County.

The lease, agreed to by both parties, stated it was for five years and such additional longer period as minerals and materials may be found on the premises in sufficient quantities as to be profitable to be commercially removed.

Mrs. Pape instituted her action to quit title in May, 1957, and the case was tried without jury the following August before Judge Sheely who concluded that at the end of five years specified in the lease minerals were not found in sufficient quantity and quality for commercial removal and therefore the lease expired in June, 1962.

The defendant's argument stated words in the lease "deemed useful or marketable" indicated the merchantability of any minerals if discovered should be determined by the lessees.

The Supreme Court read no such meaning in the lease and said such interpretation would lead only to a ridiculous and unreasonable situation causing the possibility of extending the lease indefinitely and further stated this was not the intention of the parties in the contract. It found the issue was purely one of fact and that the lower court had decided it correctly.

Spring Will Arrive Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Old man winter, who kicked up several strong storms in Pennsylvania in his waning days this month, officially bows out after today. Spring arrives Sunday.

The Weather Bureau in Philadelphia forecast fair and warmer weather for southeastern Pennsylvania over the weekend with the temperatures expected to hit near 50. Temperatures in the Poconos are expected to range from 34-38.

Western Pennsylvanians can expect snow flurries, mostly in the mountain sections, with the thermometer going into the upper 30s.

GRADE PUPILS ENTERTAIN AT SCHOOL FRIDAY

The 1,500-seat Gettysburg High School auditorium was jammed Friday evening for the first of two spring musical programs prepared by the pupils of the elementary grades.

More than 700 youngsters of the first, second and third grades entertained with songs and dances in the 90-minute program on "Music in Spring" and next Friday evening at the same place the fourth, fifth and sixth graders will give a similar program titled "Music U.S.A."

Friday's program was directed by the elementary school music teachers, Mrs. Barbara Strickhouser and Mrs. Elmira Dear-dorff, with elaborate stage settings by Richard Krick and Miss Joyce A. McCloskey of the school's art department. The elementary school band, directed by Robert G. Zeigler, played between sections of the program and accompanied some of the special numbers.

The first graders sang seven numbers about "Signs of Spring" highlighted by an Easter fashion parade of first graders and a Maypole dance. Second graders had "Spring Weather" for their theme and used special weather vane, moving clouds and other stage effects with a climax reached in an "April Showers" number that included a dance routine.

"Spring Carnivals" was the theme for the third grade section of the program that included four calypso numbers which were judged by David Blocher, Mrs. Daniel Teeter and John Caldwell, who were called from the audience by Emcee Richard Krick to pick winners among four competing teams. The judges decided it was a tie between the "Cuban Combos" and the "Louisiana Limbos," so Mr. Krick cut the prize "loving cup" in half and presented a section to the two top groups. A Mardi Gras parade climaxed the performance.

Violent Air Disturbance May Have Shaken Plane To Pieces; Bomb Is Suspected

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP) — Air crash detectives moved in a big power shovel today to dig for remains of a Northwest Airlines turboprop that exploded in flight and then drilled a crater in a southern Indiana farm.

They still had no idea whether a bomb, rough air or something else wrecked the craft and killed all 63 persons aboard late Thursday.

Meanwhile, Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), who lost his own son and daughter-in-law in a plane crash last January, was expected to meet with federal and state officials investigating the disaster.

Plan Memorial Services
In St. Paul, Northwest Airlines officials announced a plan to fly relatives of the victims to a memorial service at the scene next week.

The cause of the crash remained a frustrating mystery. The wreckage was so shattered that for clues investigators had only fragments of airplane and bodies.

Among possibilities still being checked were that violent turbulence might have shaken the airplane to pieces or that a bomb might have been planted aboard it.

Will Question Truck Driver In Slaying Of Three Women

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Police planned today to question a truck driver in the slaying of three socialites whose holiday from housework ended in a canyon at Starved Rock State Park.

State Police Supt. William Morris said he wanted to question the driver because a truck similar to his was reported seen by three persons Monday afternoon in a parking lot across the road from a trail leading into St. Louis Canyon.

It was in a shallow cave in the canyon that the bodies of the three matrons—showing signs of having been raped—were found Wednesday.

Had Similar Twine

A search for them began after their husbands became alarmed.

Morris said the truck driver's vehicle contained twine like that used to bind the wrists of two of the victims. The twine found in the truck was flown to the State Police laboratory in Springfield for comparison with the twine tied around the women's wrists.

Twine found in the kitchen of the park lodge was also sent to the crime lab.

Morris said the truck driver insisted his truck was not in the park Monday but had been there Saturday when he had taken his children for a hike into the canyon.

The women, who disappeared Monday shortly after checking into the lodge, were wives of Chicago business executives and lived in Riverside, a Chicago suburb.

They were Frances Murphy, 47, whose husband Robert is vice president and general counsel for Borg-Warner Corp.; William Oetting, 50, wife of George, an Illinois Bell Telephone Co. executive, and Mildred Lindquist, 50, whose husband Robert is a vice president of the Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago.

Importance Of Preserving Gettysburg And Other National Shrines Stressed In New Book By National Park Service

The importance of Gettysburg to the nation is well illustrated in the new book "That the Past Shall Live," published by the National Park Service as an explanation of the work of the parks system.

Theme of the book is "Visual symbols to join in our minds our past and our future development."

Headlining that "Parks play an important part in the American way of life," the publication observes: "Long ago people learned that man cannot live by bread alone."

"Because of this basic fact of life, we have churches, schools, art galleries and countless other places and facilities for the expression and strengthening of the spiritual side of human nature. For this same reason — because of the human need for something more than bread — we have parks."

Parks Valued Highly
"We have parks because there are places that we value so highly — scenes of nature or of human endeavor that are so significant to our spiritual, mental and emotional welfare — that we want them preserved and kept as public treasures for use and enjoyment, now and as long as our nation shall endure."

The book notes that there is a basic need to "pause now and again and enjoy the superlative beauties of the earth and water of our native land." Such need is met by Yellowstone and the other great scenic and wilderness parks.

"But there is another and equally important need that is deeply ingrained in the spirit of Americans. This is the need to view the great memorials of their historic past and through them to understand and more thoroughly appreciate their national heritage."

Need, Greater Today
"Today, for the people of the United States, this need is perhaps greater than at any other time. Subjected unrelentingly to the threats and tensions of an uncertain world, they are drawn in increasing numbers to re-establish contact with the nation's past. From this contact they seek and find the reassurance that, through the centuries, America has weathered every manner of upheaval, and that it will live on, serene and steadfast."

The book describes the early beginnings, the cliff dwellings of the Mesa Indian, the Spanish and the early colonial beginnings, the Revolution and the winning of the west.

"Then, after nearly half a century of progress and expansion, America in the 1860's was all but ripped asunder." The Park Service reports that it has battlefields under its jurisdiction "from Manassas to Appomattox" — but "in our brief journey through this nation's history we shall visit but one — the most important because here the Union was saved forever from destruction."

"Guns Are Stilled"
"We are at quiet Gettysburg. The guns are stilled. We stand before the rostrum where a thin, tall, somber man stands to speak. We can actually see his face, because it is there today, in bronze."

as a part of a memorial to his immortal words . . . Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty . . . On this hallowed ground America was tested. It emerged one nation, indivisible. For a little time, being here, we have seemed very close to that great and solemn moment — and to Lincoln, symbol of the Union saved . . .

The objective of the National Park Service is to "stop time at a given moment in history so as to cause men busy about present things to pause and look with understanding into the past."

"Mission 66"
The book describes the work of "Mission 66," designed to "produce a model park system by 1966."

"The very earth itself in these hallowed places is of importance. The student of military history can fully comprehend the ebb and flow of battle — the troop dispositions, the tactical maneuvers — only by studying the actual topographical conditions of the battlefield. . . . This is one way in which participation is provided for the visitor. Moving over the rolling fields of Gettysburg, for example, with its reconstruction of the historic scene, he can easily imagine himself a part of, or at least a witness to, that climactic clash of arms."

The book further observes, "America's historic places are facing a grave crisis. For the sake of preserving this rich legacy, the strong upsurge of public appreciation and understanding of our historic sites and shrines could not have come at a more opportune time in our national development."

Face Great Crisis
"Because paradoxically, at this time of their greatest popularity, many of America's irreplaceable historic places and buildings are facing their greatest crisis. From one border to another, they are

HEAR TALK ON "SEAPOW"

At a dinner meeting of the Littlestown Lions Club Thursday evening in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran Church, it was decided that due to the many activities scheduled for the last week in April, the annual TV party time show will be postponed to October. A contribution of $5 was voted to the Adams County Crippled Children's Fund.

Commander Dwight Morgan, command liaison officer of the Information and Recruiting Department at Anacostia Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, gave an illustrated lecture on "Seapower."

Guests introduced were Richard Selby, Edward B. Geiman and Dr. Allen J. Eisner. Visiting Lions included Lewis Baer, Raymond Perry and Merle S. Ohler, Tannoytown; Sherman Kroll, Charles Fahs and Ralph Eisenhart, East Berlin; Earl Alwine and Harry Crawford, Abbottstown. The safety committee, John H. Riley, chairman, was in charge of the evening's program.

A zone session was in charge of Chairman Ralph Eisenhart, with Deputy District Governor J. Louis Shultz, Hanover, in attendance. The Lions Clubs in the area were represented by their presidents and secretaries.

Ladies' Night will be observed April 7. The greater committee, Rev. William C. Karns, chairman, will be in charge of arrangements.

Capistrano Is Awaiting Return Of Cliff Swallows

By PATRICK A. McNULTY
SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—This is the day of days at this sleepy mission hamlet celebrated in song and story for a charming legend of returning swallows.

For this is St. Joseph's Day—traditional time for the mission's cliff swallows to return from their winter haunts in South America.

The village put on its best fiesta face to welcome the birds. Store owners decorated their windows and shops. Strolling bands strummed gay Mexican tunes. Ranchers polished silvered-decorated saddles for the annual mounted parade. A grey-haired gardener took special pains raking the grounds of the crumbling being threatened with impairment and destruction on an unprecedented scale.

"The greatest threat, of course, results from our rapid population growth and the almost awesome mushrooming of urban development. Everywhere across the land this swelling tide of people is demanding more living space—more subdivisions, more free-ways, more supermarkets, more reservoirs, more pipelines, more parking lots, more irrigated land."

"The public officials and private entrepreneurs who must meet these demands are understandably impatient with anything which stands in their way — particularly if these happen to be old buildings or 'worthless' historic or prehistoric sites."

Result Is Appalling
"The result — for those who feel that some of the old values of our nation deserve consideration with the new — is little short of appalling."

"At Gettysburg, for instance, artillery pieces placed in the position of original batteries now point into the kitchen doors of subdivision homes. And this is only one of many hallowed spots where modern developments—often garish and unsightly—have moved ever closer on adjacent lands to mar or destroy the meaning of the historic scene."

"Some of course may ask, why is it important to save these old places, these ancient buildings?" "Part of the answer must be found in the value of history itself."

"History is the cumulative memory of mankind and without it neither individuals, nor nations, can fully understand the present and wisely plan for the future."

HATE MAIL ON CATHOLICS IN BADGER AREAS

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Anti-Catholic literature has cropped up in Wisconsin where Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) are battling for the state's Democratic National Convention delegates.

Humphrey's campaign headquarters was quick Friday to repudiate the hate mail sent in from Minnesota.

An aide of Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, said he knew nothing of the literature.

Gene Foley, executive secretary of the Humphrey-for-president campaign in Wisconsin, said he asked the Post Office Department to trace the source of the mail after it had been called to his attention that the literature was being received in many places in Wisconsin.

Rap Churches, Priests
The literature attacks Catholic churches and priests.

It was reported to have been mailed from Hutchinson, Minn. Postmaster H.E. Jensen of Hutchinson said Friday night he thinks the mail in question had been dropped into a postal box in front of his post office one day last week.

Jensen estimated that about 5,000 letters had been sent, first class, and that he did not know who mailed them.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Ronald L. Chewakin, 20, a sailor on the USS Waccamaw, asked his mother, Mrs. Art Chewakin of Minot, S. D., for $100 for travel expenses when he got his leave. When he opened his letter his eyes popped — the check was for $1,000,100. He sent it back for another check.

MINCO, Okla. (AP)—Mayor Everett Markle issued a public plea for benches, seats and table tops borrowed from the city park to be returned. No place to sit, he said.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

In the Steps of Christ

"Now there stood by the Cross of Jesus, His mother . . ." (John 19:25).

And so the end had come at last, the end that was in reality only the beginning for all of mankind. Mary had to be there on Calvary's heights. It took courage to watch Him die, but somehow she summoned it up. She had brought Him into the world amid Bethlehem's squalor. It was to her that He addressed the fateful words: "I must be about My Father's business." And it was at her urging that He began his public ministry at the Marriage Feast of Cana.

It was inevitable that the tenderness of His last words should be directed at her and, through the Apostle John, to all mankind:

"Woman, behold thy son . . ."

Son, behold thy mother."

In less than an hour, she would be taking His body to the tomb, cradling it in her arms in a heart-rending scene that would inspire artists and sculptors for centuries to come. Pieta, mother and son.

Hospital For Crippled Children Marks Birthday

Pennsylvania Health Department's State Hospital for Crippled Children, Elizabethtown, will observe its 30th birthday anniversary March 21 with an open house, a dinner, inspection tours, visits by state dignitaries and a formal program.

The state hospital is one mile west of Elizabethtown. It occupies an attractively landscaped 263-acre site, originally a farm. Today's modern four-story building, with wings added during the years, has a bed capacity for 200 patients.

In addition to the program of medical and nursing care, physiotherapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy and special cerebral palsy treatment offered, Elizabethtown Hospital is equipped to make its own braces and artificial limbs and provides training both for craftsmen who make them and for patients who must use them.

Graduates Useful Citizens

Dr. Sanderson describes the hospital as a place for the "treatment of the mentally normal or near-normal treatable and rehabilitable children." He says the hospital, which admits minors from birth through 20 years, tries to turn out its "graduates" as useful citizens.

The hospital employs seven teachers and a principal who teach state-approved curricula from preschool through 12th grade for inpatients. An industrial arts shop provides specialized vocational training. Patients belong to Boy and Girl Scouts, publish and print their own monthly newspaper and participate in a wide variety of arts and crafts programs and in modified athletics.

Established by law on May 14, 1925, as a "state institution for the care, training and treatment of indigent children and others with surgical tuberculosis and allied conditions," the hospital has altered its program through the years to meet the changing needs.

Variety Of Defects

Twenty-three patients were admitted when the doors opened on March 21, 1930. By October of that year 100 patients were in the hospital. Ten years later the census grew to 150. According to Dr. Sanderson, the current hospital census is kept to the 150 to 160 level partly because of a shortage of trained personnel.

Most of the first patients had tuberculosis of the bone. Later many cases suffered from osteomyelitis. In the early 40's, the incidence of poliomyelitis began to increase and the hospital received more and more polio cases. Throughout the 30-year period, the hospital has been treating a variety of congenital and deforming defects such as club feet and cur-

Consider Expansion

Dr. Sanderson points out that antibiotics have resulted in a sharp decline in the number of tuberculosis and osteomyelitis cases and that Salk vaccine has resulted in a similar drop in poliomyelitis.

He states that the Health Department now is considering the possibilities of expanding the hospital's program to enable it to treat the chronically handicapped youngsters who suffer from phenylketonuria (PKU) and other errors of metabolism, nephrosis and other kidney ailments, cancer to

Ask Observers To Supervise Berlin Voting

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has proposed to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany that any presummit plebiscite held in West Berlin should be conducted with international observers present.

Adenauer, who called for such a plebiscite in a speech here Wednesday, said it should be conducted by the Western powers.

The United States is beginning consultations with Britain and France — the other two powers with troops in West Berlin — on the Chancellor's proposal. U.S. officials are not sure at this point whether it will be accepted. London has been cool to the idea and authorities here do not like the form Adenauer suggested. Also, they say, there is little time for making arrangements with the summit meeting in Paris only two months away.

See Overwhelming Vote
Adenauer argued that the West Berliners would vote overwhelmingly in favor of the continued presence of the United States, Britain and France in their city and thus reject Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan to have the Western allies abandon West Berlin to what Khrushchev calls a "free city" status.

Herter is understood to have argued that when West Berliners voted two years ago and clearly showed their dislike for Khrushchev's ideas, Soviet propaganda promptly denounced the election as one held at bayonet point. Herter believes that the presence of international observers would forestall such a propaganda attack this time.

GET THE SPIRIT

The only difference between success and failure is getting the spirit. No man ever won who did not have it. Even down to the commonest and most menial task, you have to have the spirit in order to make it work out to any purpose.

What is the spirit? It is to feel your work. And then it is to pass this feeling on to those about you. The business office in which this spirit moves is a place of happiness and accomplishment. And this spirit is a ruling element in every fine and dominating personality.

Get the spirit — and you will rise from the deepest depths of despair and discouragement could ever hope to drop you. Get the spirit — and what before seemed of little meaning and importance, will loom as something definite in the formation of your plans.

Get the spirit — and folks will want you around. They will send for you. They will welcome you when you break in on them unawares. They will tell the rest of their world about you — and that will mean just that much more of this great spirit everywhere.

Get the spirit — and you will face every problem bravely and well; and only about one-tenth of all the troubles you think you have will prove to be real.

Get the spirit — and rule with it. Lead with it, be a somebody with it. But keep giving it away all the time, if you want it to grow in you.

BIGNESS

Be a big man every day;
Big in thought and big in heart,
Big in what you have to say;
Even though a simple part
Has been given you to fill,
Of your labor, give it all;
Big in patience, big in will;
Don't in any way be small.

Live a big life here on earth;
Do the biggest deeds you can.
Big in fellowship and mirth,
Big in what becomes a man.
Do not keep yourself confined
To the narrow things and small,
Open wide your heart and mind;
Life is big; so live it all.

Let's Look At The Record

1960 CENSUS
U.S. Head Count Is World's Most Unique
Except In America, A Census Is Unpopular

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin
State College, Superior

THE BIG COUNT of American noses begins Monday, March 23. It behooves you and all else to help the 160,000 "enumerators," the 10,000 crew leaders, and the 1,200 supervisors and technicians who are keeping the score. It is a civic duty. Your town, your county, your state is going to be stuck for ten years with the figures they finally bring forth.

AMERICA'S thousands of postmen, not counted in the above workers, will start the ball rolling. On the above date they will deliver questionnaires that require short answers to a few simple questions from each of America's estimated 15,000,000 householders. Of course, the first items called for the name, relationship, sex, race, date of birth and marital status of each member of the household. Then follow a few questions about the number of rooms, water supply, cooking, bathing and sanitary facilities and the ownership of the dwelling.

Census workers will call at homes to collect and check these completed questionnaires early in April. They will then leave in every fourth home a 12-page questionnaire with fifty or sixty questions. This exhaustive sampling will provide information on all sorts of subjects of inestimable value for economic planning.

The law requires that all questions be answered accurately and further guarantees the raw, unprocessed, individual information will be held in confidence. It will not be used for purposes of special taxation, investigation or regulation of a business enterprise or person.

AMERICA is unique in this restriction upon the use of census data. In Europe it has always been a different story.

The very word, census, stems from the Latin censere, which means to value or to tax. The Romans had a listing and enumeration of their citizens as early as 540 B.C. But it was not until the date of the birth of Christ that they got around to a count of everybody in the Empire.

You will recall that it was to register for a census that Joseph and Mary happened to be in Bethlehem when the Child Jesus was born.

But it cannot be said that the Romans invented the idea. The Book of Numbers, in the Old Testament, savors strongly of a census return. Moses is thought by some to have needed an inventory of his fighting men against the uncertainties of the wilderness.

Later King David, in a vain glorious moment of sinful pride, incurred Divine wrath for forcing his reluctant captain of the posts, Joab, to organize a census lasting nine months. Pestilence swept the land.

Twenty-seven hundred years later, 1723, a colonial governor of New Jersey, looking for an excuse not to hold a census demanded by London, wrote: "The people would take it a repetition of David's sin." No; the New Jersey governor did not get away with it. Three years later he reported a colonial population of 32,442 inhabitants.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS, however, holds the New World's oldest written census returns.

Thirty years before the first Englishmen settled Virginia, but over half a century after Cortez conquered Mexico in 1519, the King of Spain called for a census of his overseas holdings. In the process of creating one of the finest known Latin American historical libraries, Texas U acquired the reports.

THE FOUNDING FATHERS wrote requirements for a U.S. census every 10 years into the First Article of the Constitution. If for no other reason, there had to be a head count as a basis for proportioning any direct taxation and to determine how many representatives each state should have in the lower house of Congress.

Accordingly, America has had an increasingly detailed enumeration and gathering of allied statistics each ten years beginning with 1790. In that year the combined population of all thirteen of the United States was 3,929,214. The entire report filled only 57 printed pages. The statistics from the coming census will be printed in many, many heavy tomes.

But preliminary figures for some towns and counties of 10,000 or more will be announced before May 1. The final head count figures for all cities, towns, villages and counties should be available by next October. Immediately some states will boast their gains and others will mourn their losses in congressional representatives.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Banking Department today called for a report of conditions as of March 15 of all state banks, bank and trust companies, trust companies, savings banks, private banks and employees mutual banking associations. The report need not be published.

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Dick Haymes filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy Thursday listing $5,493 in assets and $522,242 in liabilities. In his petition, the 41-year-old Haymes listed 246 creditors, including former wives Joanne Dru, $20,000 and Nora Edgington, $11,000. Both have accused him of being in arrears in alimony or support payments.

WRITES BOOK ON J. P. GETTY

A new book, "The Richest American," tells the story of J. Paul Getty, a fabulously wealthy man.

Getty is the ruler of a world-wide industrial empire which includes the huge Getty, Tidewater and Skelly Oil Companies, Spartan Aircraft Company, the Pierre Marquessa Hotel in Acapulco, Mexico. At the age of 23 Getty had made his first million. Then, for a time, he became a playboy but in the last 30 years he has toiled. Today, a vigorous 67, he is a living legend in American industry, yet so evasive he has been called "the mysterious oilman." Now in this intimate and fascinating biography, Ralph Hewins tells for the first time the full, authentic story of the fabulously wealthy man and how this enigmatic genius built it.

"He is a man whose contradictions are even more intriguing than his consistencies—a billionaire who never set out to make first and second class work. Adult leaders in charge were Paul E. Renner, Luther D. Snyder, James P. Hahn and Robert Hahn. Anna Louise Krichen gave the opening prayer at the meeting of the Civics Club at the St. Aloysius Parochial School Friday afternoon. Jerome Oyler, sergeant-at-arms, led the flag salute. There was a discussion on improving the school safety patrol lines. The following volunteered to speak on a phase of civic improvement at the meeting next week: Margaret Mary Altoff, Thomas Gingham, Sally Busbey, Joyce Hymiller and Faith Redding. The Seventh grade officers will preside at the meeting next Friday.

Mrs. Clyde Bucher, Mrs. Norval Beaver, Mrs. Clarence Sheely, Mrs. Carroll E. Arter and Mrs. Harry Snyder will be hostesses for the meeting of the Young Women's Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

License Number, Set Of Car Keys Trap Slayers

By JAMES DOWLING
CHICAGO (AP) — A scrawled license number on a bloodied paper and a set of car keys led police to two men Friday night who they say admitted he killing of two postal investigators who had seized them for mail theft.

The man who police said wielded the gun, George Wilson, 37, Negro, claimed he was high on dope and didn't know he had killed anyone.

"I didn't know I did it. I just felt good," he said. He related how one of his companions told him, "Shoot, shoot, shoot, squeeze and let's keep on squeezing."

Also arrested and held without charge was William Perkins, 36, a lot of money; an incessant worker who likes beach-combing; a man of decision who procrastinates; a man of precision who lives in chaos; a builder of huge ships which he does not travel on; the owner of an aircraft factory who does not fly; an art connoisseur who seldom sees his treasures; a public benefactor who is accused of being a Scrooge; a patriot who has become an expatriate; a deep reader who has no personal philosophy; a family man who has been divorced five times; a sportsman who is never ill but who rushes to doctors; an apostle of greatness who is modesty itself. All that—and more.

Hewins' penetrating portrait of this dynamic man introduces one of the 20th century's last great entrepreneurs, who combines rugged individualism with a mastery of modern corporate technology.

our city neighbors to join us this year, as we celebrate the 25th birthday of rural electrification.

THERE'S A GOOD REASON. City jobs are more secure, paychecks fatter, and business is better, since rural Americans banded together to serve themselves with electric light and power.

THIS YEAR THEY WILL BUY over a billion dollars worth of electric appliances and equipment—made and sold in cities and towns. And this market didn't exist until rural America was electrified by member-owned, private enterprises, such as ours.

THOUSANDS OF MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN—our city neighbors—live happier, safer lives today, because of this great surge of buying power provided by the growing needs of rural America.

PSU GYM LADS DEFEND TITLE

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Defending champion Penn State sends the top contingent of 18 men into today's finals of the 18th annual NCAA gymnastics tournament, including all-around titlist Jay Werner. At stake is the team championship.

Werner won the all-around crown Friday night with a flawless vault over the long horse in the preliminaries, succeeding the 1959 winner, Armando Vega, former Penn State star.

Art Shurlock of California was second in the all-around competition, followed by Greg Weiss of Penn State and Ray Hadley of Illinois.

Ten men in each event qualified in the preliminaries Friday. Michigan State and the University of Southern California had the next highest total of qualifiers with 9 each. California placed 7.

Werner, defending swinging rings champion, placed first in the horizontal bar and long horse vault to compile 547.25 individual points. Shurlock, who led until the last event, had 540.5, Weiss 538 and Hadley 529.5.

BOLTS APPEAR STRONG AGAIN FOR NEXT YEAR

Littlestown High School, which enjoyed one of its finest basketball seasons during the past campaign, should have another good year next season.

Coach Jack Bream will have nine veterans back including three of this year's starters, Bob Benner, Gene Appier and Larry Weikert. The others are Larry Snyder, Bill Bowers, Ed Elder, Don Orndorff, Charlie Mummert and Larry Bair.

Five Bolts played their final season this year, Ed Knipple and Ed Leister, honorary captains, Fred Dutterer, Gary Worley and Larry Unger.

During the 1959-60 season the Thunderbolts compiled a 16-6 record, won the Adams County division title of the Adams-Franklin League but lost the playoff game for the overall league title 62-60 to Greencastle.

Benner, 6-2 junior, led the team in scoring with a 17.2 average. Weikert, 6-0 junior, was second with 12.9. Benner also led in rebounding with 270 and an average of 12.3 per game. Appier was second with 174 rebounds and Knipple third with 156.

BSC SENDS 9 TO MAT SEMIS

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's Bloomsburg College went into the decisive rounds of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics wrestling tournament today with the advantage of nine semifinals.

That was to more than Southern Illinois University and four more than Lock Haven, the host team.

They survived the opening two rounds Friday.

Bloomsburg took a slight team advantage by compiling 12 points, but Lock Haven picked up 11 and Southern Illinois 9.

Two of the five defending champions surviving are from Lock Haven and one from Southern Illinois.

Lock Haven's Gray Simons, 155 pounds, and Ralph Clark, 147, easily won opening matches.

Jim Bledsoe of Southern Illinois, 123, also won to matches.

The other defenders are John Rollins, 137, and Jerry Wedemeier, Winona (Minn.) State.

AIRLINER DIVES TO AVOID JETS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A passenger and stewardess suffered minor injuries Friday night when a Northwest Airlines strato-cruiser carrying 73 made a sharp dive the pilot said was necessary to avoid two military jets flying in formation over Lansing, Mich.

"It was a real dive and it was very obvious the pilot was trying to avoid something," said Arthur W. Smith, Minneapolis, a passenger.

But a military spokesman in Michigan denied the airliner had been endangered.

The airline said the plane, Flight 7 from New York, was flying at 16,000 feet when William Smith, the pilot, made the diving turn of about 300 feet to miss two military jets.

Margaret Higgins, a passenger, and stewardess Sherry Carter, both of Minneapolis, suffered neck injuries. The plane carried 67 passengers, a crew of six.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Millard Fillmore (Dixie) Howell, former major league pitcher, was stricken by a fatal heart attack Friday shortly after a spring training workout with the Indianapolis Indians. Howell, 40, died at a hospital a few hours after the attack. He had pitched for the Chicago White Sox, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

KANSAS CITY PINS HOPES ON KEN HAMLIN

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Kansas City will go to the post with its usual new crop of former Yankees, plus a rookie manager, Bob Elliott, who must get acquainted with a new league and a new ball club.

"Right now I would say the key to my plans is Ken Hamlin," said Elliott. "If the kid can make it at shortstop, we'll be able to go along with our other plans."

"I want to leave Jerry Lumpe on second because I think he is a better second baseman than shortstop. That would put our kid, Lou Klimchok, on third base. He has been a second baseman but I want to make that switch if Hamlin stands up, because I want Lumpe on second."

The latest cargo from New York includes Hank Bauer, Norm Sieber, Don Larsen and Marv Throneberry. Nine former Yanks are on the club.

Except for Bob Cerv and Bill Tuttle, he lineup of last spring has departed.

If Hamlin (.251 at Columbus) makes it, Lumpe (.241) will be on second and rookie Klimchok (.315 at Shreveport) at third. Throneberry (.240) is the first baseman. If Hamlin fails, Elliott probably would put Lumpe on short, return Klimchok to second and play Handyman Dick Williams (.266 at third, Wayne Terwilliger (.267) and Williams are the reserves.

Others In Lineup
Sieber (.271) or Cerv (.285) in left, Bill Tuttle (.300) in center and Bauer (.238 at New York) in right will be the outfielders. Russ Snyder .313 was impressive last year in 73 games and Cuban Leo Posada (.301 at Shreveport) has caught Elliott's eye.

The catching corps will be headed by Harry Chitt (.272) with help from Pete Daley (.225 at Boston) and Hank Foiles (.225 at Pittsburgh).

Pitching could be better if the youngsters come through. Sure starters are Bud Daley (.16-13), Johnny Kucks (.8-12), Ned Garver (.10-13), Ray Herbert (.11-11) and Larsen (.6-7) at New York. Elliott liked what he saw of Dick Hall (.18-5 at Salt Lake City) and Ken Johnson (.16-11 at Portland). He also has been impressed by John Tsitouris (.4-3).

CHAMBERLAIN HURTS HAND IN FIST FIGHT

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain finally got mad and it could cost the Philadelphia Warriors their chance to win the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern championship.

The 250-pound Chamberlain left for Boston Friday night, his right hand swathed in bandages. It was injured in a fist fight with Boston's Tom Heinsohn after the two collided in the first period of Friday night's 115-110 Philadelphia victory.

"It hurts and it's swollen," said the 7-foot-2 giant.

Teams Are Tied

The two teams, now tied 1-1, meet in Boston in the third of the best-of-seven game series.

In the Western Division, the St. Louis Hawks are at Minneapolis this afternoon trying to recoup from a defeat Thursday night on their home court. The Hawks-Lakers series also is tied 1-1, but the Lakers have the advantage of winning that all important road game. They could upset the Hawks in the playoffs for the second straight year merely by winning their three home games in the best-of-seven series.

The fight between Chamberlain and the 6-7, 220-pound Heinsohn was the highlight of a rugged battle between the two Eastern rivals before a record Convention Hall crowd of 12,581.

May Be Costly

Chamberlain charged after the former Holy Cross flash, his fists flailing. They stood toe-to-toe and slugged it out until players of both teams, the officials and police broke it up.

Chamberlain has charged all season he was being roughed. His coach, Neil Johnston, has shouted himself hoarse to The Stilt to fight back. He finally did and it may be the most costly fighting back of the year for Johnston and his crew. It's no secret that without Chamberlain, the Warriors resemble the last-place team of 1959.

Heinsohn charged that Chamberlain was as guilty of roughing as anyone else in the league.

Friday night's game was the Warriors' most lead changes in the first period, and a 41-41 tie in the second quarter. Philadelphia led all the way.

Chamberlain collected 29 points. Heinsohn's 26 were high for the Celtics.

LAUSSE STOPS CANADIAN IN FOURTH ROUND

NEW YORK (AP) — An Eduardo Lause-Carmen Basilio mid-weight "natural" was in the works today following the Argentine's sensational return to the U.S. ring.

The 32-year-old South American champion celebrated his first fight in the United States in four years Friday night by stopping strong Wilkie Greaves, the Canadian ruler, in 1:33 of the fourth round of a television thriller at Madison Square Garden.

Only a few minutes after Referee Ruby Goldstein intervened to save Greaves from injury, matchmaker Teddy Brenner proposed the Lause-Basilio match.

Was Rusty, Wild
"I might just take it," said Basilio. He was in the Garden to handle his lightweight protege Dick DiVeronica of Syracuse. Dick outpointed Tommy Pacheco in an eight-round prelim.

Lause was a little rusty and wild at times Friday but he kept swinging away with his potent left hook. One of them finally turned the trick early in the fourth round. The punch caught Wilkie on the head and staggered him. That was the beginning of the end.

A right and left to the jaw then dropped the husky blond for eight. When he arose on wobbling legs, Lause let him have it with both barrels. He was about to fall again when Goldstein stopped the rout.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Pete Newell of University of California's defending NCAA basketball championship was named coach of the year by the U.S. Basketball Writers Assn. Friday.

Newell, winding up his sixth year at Cal, took a 118-43 record into tonight's NCAA championship playoff.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Training camp exercises have failed to remedy an old weakness of the Chicago White Sox — lack of batting power.

As of today, the Chicagoans have won five exhibition games while losing only one. But they are batting .181.

However, their pitching has been pretty good and they have yet to make an error.

BRADLEY FIVE FAVORED OVER PROVIDENCE

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley, with a drug scare to star sophomore Chet Walker apparently resolved, rules a four-point favorite over pesky Providence in the championship game of the National Basketball Tournament today.

The top-seeded Braves (26-2), playing in the NIT final for the third time in four years, meet Providence (24-4) in a nationally televised (NBC) title game at 4 p.m. EST, following a third-place game between St. Bonaventure and Utah State.

"We've had our hands full trying to get ready for Providence and I'm glad this orange juice matter seems over," said Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn after a police laboratory report and a doctor indicated Friday that it was uncontaminated juice that Walker drank before the team's 82-71 victory over St. Bonaventure Thursday night. The juice was brought to Walker's hotel room by a young man about 19 or 20 dressed as a bellhop.

The 6-7 Walker, a baby-faced Negro from Benton Harbor, Mich., who leads Bradley in scoring with a 22-point average, has spent most of the time in bed since he became ill during the game with the Bonnies.

"I expect Walker to play, but I probably will have to use him in a limited capacity again," said Orsborn. Tired, weak, and nauseous during the semifinal, Walker played only 23 minutes but still led the scoring with 27 points.

NORRISTOWN IS FAVORED TO WIN PCIAA

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Make

Bishop Kenrick High School of Norristown a slight favorite over Johnstown Catholic in tonight's PCIAA Class A basketball final for the state championship at the Palestra.

Bishop Kenrick has a height advantage, a better record and 'The Terrible Twins' Tommy and Denny Marshall, who have tallied 866 points this season.

Tommy, a 6-3 senior, has picked up 439 points and averaged 20 points a game in five playoff contests. Denny, a 6-2 senior, has dished in 427 points.

In addition to the Marshall's Bishop Kenrick has 6-4 junior Jackie McKernan, the team's top rebounder.

Has 24-2 Record

Rounding out the starting five are 5-11 junior Vince Buckley and 5-9 senior Ricky Falcone.

Johnstown's only six-footer is John Stofa who is 6-2. Its other starters are 5-11 Garry Ripple, 5-10 Fred Garbinski, and Mike Foran and Ray Harris, both 5-8.

Bishop Kenrick has an overall 24-2 record, losing only to Roman Catholic and Bethlehem Catholic. It captured the Suburban Catholic League title with a 15-1 mark.

The Norristown school advanced to the finals by defeating Harrisburg Bishop McDevitt 49-41. It will mark the first time Kenrick has made it to the finals

John W. Bream Sr., Family Enjoy And Net Profit In Hog Raising With Their Orchards

Hog raising, started by accident, is almost as much fun as fruit growing. At least that is the impression one gains by speaking with John W. Bream Sr., Orrtanna R. 1. Mr. Bream, his son, John Jr., his wife and his father-in-law comprise one of the many fine farm families in Adams County.

Eldest of the clan is the father-in-law, J. C. Minter, who at 94 still drives his own car. When he took his test at the age of 90, the examining officer asked whether he had had his eyes examined. His reply was, "Yes, 50 years ago and they were perfect." The officer insisted on an examination which disclosed that Minter had perfect 20-20 vision. Since then, however, he has bowed a little to time, and now wears glasses occasionally to read.

Started With Fruit

John Sr. started in the fruit business, but a visit to his place indicates that his Berkshire swine are his pride now.

The Bream farms now raise about 300 to 350 head of hogs a year as a sideline with fruit growing. The herd began about 1950 when the family acquired the present home farm.

John Sr. felt that a farm needed hogs and with his son purchased some at the State Farm Show. They purchased Berkshires. The reason: "You get more meat from them."

The son purchased the fifth, seventh and 11th place winners at the farm show. When the Ritter Brothers at Carlisle had a sale the Breams bought two herd boars out of the grand champion of the Berkshire breed. Three more sows were bought and from the six sows the Bream farm the following summer had 15 gilts for sale. But the price was only 12 cents a pound and the Breams decided that if they held the animals they could't lose, because they'd get the litters and even at 12 cents a pound that would be more profitable than selling the gilts at that time.

Have 40 Sows

At the present time there are 40 top sows in the herd and Bream has erected a fine farrowing house. He calls it the "maternity ward." Railings around the pens permit the tiny piglets to run without danger of their huge mothers stepping or lying on them. A section of each pen is divided off so the pigs can get into it, while the sow cannot. Electric bulbs provide heat in the tiny special pens for the pigs. Twenty-five sows at a time can use the "maternity ward."

Son Has Workshop

John has a workshop that rivals a garage in equipment, and enables him to do most of the repairs and painting of the farm equipment. In the barn self feeders need filling only twice a week. Huge hoppers drop feed into hand-trucks for use by both the hogs and the herd of beef steers.

Mrs. Bream is the bookkeeper-accountant for the "firm." She tells of the bookkeeping problems of present day farm operations when social security, withholding taxes, income taxes and all the rest add to the complexities of keeping track of income and outgo.

Years ago the Breams had a ten-acre patch that produced fruit. In those days much of the county's fruit went to Europe. An Englishman visited the county, and purchased most of Bream's apple crop. The check that came back was in pounds and shillings. The Breams found one particular check in pounds sterling in the 1920s particularly valuable. They had assumed that the pounds and shillings totalled the price set in American dollars. When they cashed it, they found it was much more. Upon inquiry they were informed that the pound and dollar had increased in value while the check was enroute and so the Breams profited from international finance.

Proud of Home

Bream is particularly proud of his home because it is probably the last in the United States to be finished in chestnut.

How that came about is ex-

HAS FEED MILL "ON WHEELS"

William F. Orner, Fairfield, Eastern States representative in Gettysburg, Fairfield and Taneytown, today announced a new "mill-on-wheels" feed processing plant for this area. He said its purpose is to serve those farmers who wish to utilize their own grains for feeding livestock and poultry.

One of the advantages of the new service, he said, is that it brings the mill to the farmer instead of the farmer having to take his grain to the mill.

The mobile unit, newest of its type in this area, is built by the Daffin Manufacturing Company of Lancaster. It consists of a feed mill that grinds all farm grown grains and roughages according to the farmer's specifications, mixes the ground material with feed concentrates, and blends in fresh liquid molasses to produce any desired formula. The track-borne mill is powered by its own 120 h.p. diesel engine and is driven from farm-to-farm on a regular route schedule.

Orner said that farmers across the country claim it is far more convenient and economical to have their feed formulas processed on their farms. "In the past it was necessary to load their grains, truck them to the feed mill, unload them, wait until the feed was prepared, load it again, take it back to the farm, and unload it into feed bins," he said.

The population of Los Angeles has increased six times in the last 50 years.

Jesuit Priest, Orthodox Jew Are Helping Criminals

By BOB POOS

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The Rev. Charles D. Clark glances around the old school building and remarks:

"You can see more crooks here in 10 minutes than you can in a month on TV."

The old school is Dismas House, a haven operated by Father Clark for burglars, stickupmen, murderers and other felons recently released from prison.

Dismas House, named for the good thief who died on a cross next to Jesus, is a halfway house between prison and the outside world.

In it, paroled convicts get meals, a bed, a change of clothing and, more than likely, a new lease on life.

"Hoodlum Priest"

Father Clark, a 57-year-old Jesuit, has devoted himself to helping criminals for the past 23 years. He rather enjoys his informal title, "Hoodlum Priest."

Since October, Dismas House has turned out more than 300 rehabilitated criminals. They have jobs and homes and are on the way to becoming useful members of society.

Before Dismas House, Father Clark helped countless other convicts. Some slipped back to the guns and blackjack.

"I don't kid myself," says Father Clark. "I play the percentages. But you can almost sense it if a man really wants to go straight."

Men Are Screened

Before the men are paroled in his custody, they are carefully screened at the prison. Then Father

Clark takes a long look at them himself. He will not accept rapists, homosexuals or narcotics addicts.

The idea for Dismas House started working in Father Clark's mind 23 years ago when Judge David Fitzgibbons invited him to attend some sessions of the Court of Criminal Correction.

"I was shocked by what I saw," he recalls. "Men with no hope in life. No home, family, friends. Men who returned to crime because they couldn't see any other way to go."

Befriended By Jew

One day last year Father Clark walked into the office of his lawyer-friend, Morris Shenker, an Orthodox Jew and sometime benefactor. The lawyer looked at the priest and reached for his wallet.

"OK, father, how much this time?" he asked.

"Forty thousand ought to do," answered Father Clark.

Shenker put down $2,000, signed a note for the remainder and a soon an 87-year-old abandoned school, located in a grim section of downtown St. Louis, became Dismas House.

About 30 men currently are residents of Dismas House. It can handle 60. A released one usually stays about two weeks.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An anonymous benefactor who called himself "Billy Graham" paid the fines Friday night of nine Amish fathers jailed for refusing to send their children to a new high school.

U.S. To File Vigorous Protest Against China For Imprisoning Bishop

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will make the "strongest possible protest" to Red China for giving a 20-year prison sentence to an ailing 68-year-old American prelate, Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said Friday. "I find it difficult to emphasize sufficiently the revulsion that I, personally, and the U.S. government feel today."

"I am instructing our ambassador at Warsaw to lodge the strongest possible protest with the representative of the Chinese Communist regime at their next meeting Tuesday, March 22."

Have Formal Contact

The United States does not recognize Red China and has no diplomatic relations with the country. However for the past 18 months Ambassador Jacob D. Beam at Warsaw and the Red Chinese ambassador there, Wang Ping-nan, have been maintaining formal contact. One purpose of the periodic talks is to try to obtain the release of a handful of American prisoners in Red China.

Peiping radio said Friday that Bishop Walsh admitted plotting to overthrow the Communist government. The prelate had been in China since 1948, and remained at his Shanghai post after the Communists took over the next year. He refused an offer to return home in 1955.

Accuse Cardinal Spellman

Peiping radio also accused Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York of joining Walsh in subversive activities against Red China.

In New York Cardinal Spellman said "no one will take seriously the absurd charges of 'espionage' against Bishop Walsh," which he said followed "a cruel pattern of Communist persecution."

The cardinal said Bishop Walsh would not survive the 20-year sentence. As to the charge that he also was linked with espionage, Cardinal Spellman said "I brought Bishop Walsh with me from the United States to China in 1948. I have never seen nor heard from him."
